The fund

Fund performance objective and benchmark

The Fund's investment objective is to achieve capital growth over the medium term (3-5 years) by investing at least 80% in the shares of UK companies included in the FTSE All-Share Index. The Fund's performance target is to outperform, after the deduction of charges, the FTSE All-Share Index (the "Index") over a rolling 5-year period. The Index is regarded as a good measure of the share-price performance of the approximately 600 largest companies on the London Stock Exchange. The Index is considered an appropriate benchmark for the Scheme's performance, as the Scheme's potential investments will predominantly be included in the Index. In addition to the benchmark for the Scheme's performance as noted above (the "Index"), the IA UK All Companies sector is considered an appropriate benchmark for performance comparison.

Performance commentary

The third quarter of 2024 continued to see positive performance from equity markets with the FTSE All-Share Index rising by 2.3% and 9.9% overall for the first nine months of the year. The quarter was dominated at the macro level by central banks effectively declaring the battle with inflation was over and start to reduce interest rates as evidence appeared of economic weakness. In the UK, Europe and most notably the US interest rates were reduced and is widely expected that further cuts will follow. Generally corporate earnings held up well, however the growing area of weakness appears industrial markets where intense competition from Chinese companies coupled with soft demand has resulted in a number of profit warnings.

The Trust performed in-line with FTSE All-Share Index during the quarter and was positioned in the 53rd percentile relative to the peer group. The largest positive attribution during the period was generated from Bellway, Tesco and Compass. Bellway a domestic housebuilder has recovered well during the quarter reflecting its sensitivity into forward interest rates. A well-documented housing shortage coupled with the potential for falling rates suggest profits can recovery from here. Tesco and Compass two steady compounders have continued to perform well. The largest negative was Rentokil which warned that its acquisition in the US Terminix was struggling to hit the hoped for growth targets and the shares fell significantly.

Fund activity

During the quarter we started a new holding in Marks & Spencer reflecting managements moves to operationally improve its food and clothing offering. We added to Tesco further, reflecting its ability to continue taking market share in the UK and we have continued to add to the banks, notably NatWest which appears attractively valued. In contrast we exited Victrex and SSP as both continue to struggle in their respective markets. Rightmove received a bid approach which ultimately was unsuccessful, however we used the elevation of the share price to exit our small holding and will re-evaluate now the shares have fallen back.

Market commentary

Market Overview

The quarter saw the FTSE All-Share index rise, with the bigger companies of the FTSE-100 outpaced by the medium sized companies of the FTSE-250. This was in part due to the quarter starting with a positive reaction to the decisive UK general election result, spurring demand for domestic UK companies. Additionally, some large constituents of the FTSE-100 weighed on the index. Astra Zeneca was down on some disappointing drug development updates and BP and Shell were both under pressure from oil price weakness; this was caused by Saudi Arabia saying that they may not manage their production levels to target $100 per barrel. The Energy sector was the worst performing sector in the quarter, while more defensive sectors like Consumer Staples and Utilities did better.

The equity market took on a more defensive feel in the middle of the quarter, with sectors like Healthcare and Consumer Staples faring best; while sectors like Materials, Energy and Technology struggled. With inflation seemingly now under control and interest rates on a downward trajectory, concerns have turned to how much economies might slow. The new UK government has also been at some pains to stress how stretched public finances are, leading to concerns that the budget later this year may contain some hard measures to address this.

Markets rallied towards the end of the quarter, after news from China that the authorities were considering injecting significant stimulus into their economy.

Corporate activity continues, with Informa revealing a £1bn bid for events peer Ascential and Hargreaves Lansdown and Rightmove both finding themselves as bid targets.

Outlook

Given the often-conflicting macroeconomic data of the moment, we feel justified in our consistent approach of trying to filter out the noise and focus on investing over the long term.
